My favourite festival

Mid-Autumn Festival is one of the most popular festivals in Hong Kong. Mid-Autumn Festival is also called 'Moon Festival'. We always celebrate Mid-Autumn Festival in September.

At Mid-Autumn Festival, we eat star fruit and mooncakes. I enjoy eating traditional moon cakes with salted egg yolks and lotus paste filling. We look at the full moon at home. Children carry lanterns around. We sometimes take photos with each other.

We always have Moon Festival party at night. We eat big dinner with family and friends. Some people watch the fire dragon dance in the morning. The fire dragon is made of incense sticks.

I like Mid-Autumn Festival very much. It is because I can eat so many moon cakes, and I can carry lantern.
