Charity Sale

I recently took part in the charity sale. The aim was to encourage the community to raise funds for the disadvantaged.

The charity sale was held at Sham Shui Po Stadium. About 5000 people took part. We invited a lot of people to be the volunteers. We had a lot of things to sell such as stationery, cookies, toys, puzzles, flowers and story books. We also had a lucky draw and a sponsored run. We played a lot of games too. I think the charity sale was very successful because a lot of people supported the charity sale. We raised 800 dollars. All the proceeds went to Oxfam and Hong Kong Red Cross to help the disadvantaged and the sick.

Taking part in the charity sale, I learned about respecting the disadvantaged and learned some selling skills. I am planning to take part in 30-hour Fast. I hope all the people will respect the poor and help the disabled.
