

My Recent Shopping Trip

Festival Walk is in Kowloon Tong. There are a lot of different shops in the shopping centre. There are boutiques, bookshops, electronics shops and gift shops. There is also a beautiful cinema. Food in restaurants is expensive there.

During summer holiday, I went to Festival Walk with my best friend Alison. We got up early that day because we were very excited to go shopping together. We went there by MTR and arrived at about ten o'clock. First, we walked to a toy shop. Cartoon characters were cute and special. It was unique there. Alison bought a cute yellow duck and I bought a little angel. They were very expensive. Then we went to an electronics shop which was full of gadgets. They were useful for our families. Alison bought a small clock in black. I didn't buy anything there.

Next, we took a lift to a CD shop. Music was great and there were many popular albums. We bought many CDs, so the shopkeeper gave us a free gift – a poster of Chen Yixun. We spent the whole morning there, so we felt hungry. We saw home-made bread and cakes in a bakery. They looked delicious.

After taking a rest, we wanted to buy some trendy clothes in a fashion shop. I bought a skirt and Alison bought a pair of shoes. I liked a black handbag, but I couldn't afford to buy it. Finally, at about 4 o'clock, we watch people ice-skating in the ice rink. At about 5 o'clock, we left the shopping centre.

We were happy that day because we could buy a lot of things. We plan not to go there again as things are expensive.

Jodie Zheng