

Dear Matthew,

Hey! How are you? Matthew, thanks for your postcard. I am really sorry to write back so late, it's because I had a lot of homework to do, it made me suffocate.

My school life in Form 4 has just begun. I have two new subjects this year, they are Principle of Accounts and Economics. I find difficulties in understanding them. Luckily, I stay with my old friends in my class, we support each other. Also, I take part in the Student Union. It was fun when we held the new school term party.

The school sports day is coming soon, so I will be busy later in November. I really miss you - if you were with us, I bet we would win the 400-metre relay.

How about you? Is your new school cool? Are you used to studying and living in Singapore? I know people in Singapore speak in English or Putonghua and I know you don't speak Putonghua, that means you must speak in English all the time, right? Have you met any friends in Singapore? I think you have because you're kind to everyone and you can speak in English fluently, so it won't be hard to live in Singapore.

I remember that you like chewing gum, but it is not allowed in Singapore, what a pity! Moreover, I've heard that Singapore has lots of trees and parks, it should be greener than Hong Kong. It's good to all citizens there. Since Singapore is bigger than Hong Kong, I think you should live in a big flat or a house, am I right? Oh! My poor small flat. I am dying to hear more about you... just tell me more!

In late December, I think I may visit Singapore with my family, will you meet me at the airport and show me around? If you come back before December, I will show you around in HK Disneyland. I've visited there once. It was a great trip! I miss you so much, but I really have to stop here, I have to sleep now... it's 11:30pm in HK. Hope to hear from you soon. Please give my best wishes to your family.

Love,

Anthony
